

Dis-Dance Learning Lab

A Solution for Virtual Schooling and the Working Parent

Are you a working parent who cannot get any work done while your children are at home 'schooling' or feel you're only giving 50% to your children and job? Are you uneasy about sending your child back to school with 400-1500 students among the uncertainty of Covid-19? Does your child need an environment outside of the home so they concentrate better? The solution is to give your children the space they need to work in a quiet, socially distanced, small class atmosphere with supervision and, when needed, provide the help that teachers cannot supply virtually. In addition, since virtual classwork can be completed in a 3-5 hours, students will have a daily dance class and other art enrichment classes bringing the fun and socialization children need back into their lives.
